Paper scarecrow template

I couldn't be more excited to share this adorable paper bowl scarecrow trade with you, because I love everything about the fall season! Apples, pumpkins, Halloween and scarecrows... Autumn time is the best! If you're looking for a fabulous fall craft to make at home or in the classroom this cute scarecrow kids craft is perfect. These lovely little guys would be perfect for hung up on the harvest-themed billboard with the saying: Grade 1 Pick of the Crop or Happy Fall Ya'll! Be sure to check out the video tutorial and more fall themed activities for kids at the bottom of this post. [This ship was originally posted on August 17, 2017.] I've seen scarecrow crafts made from a huge variety of crafting materials like toilet paper roll, craft sticks, a ripped paper scarecrow, a coffee scarecrow, and even a flower pot scarecrow. Most of them aren't exactly kid-friendly that way after having my creative thinking brain cap, I came up with this fabulous idea using a paper bowl to make this super cute scarecrow craft. Perfect for an autumn-themed kindergarten trade. Since there's a free and simple printable craft template to use, people of all ages will love making it! Props needed to make the Scarecrow: Instructions for making the Paper Bowl Scarecrow: 1. Start painting the bottom of the paper bowl with tan paint. Set aside to dry completely. Note: We love the 3D effect achieved by using a paper bowl for the craft, but if you don't have it, you can easily use sheet of paper on the scarecrow's face. Related: 125+ Autumn Crafts for Kids 2. Print the scarecrow craft pattern and use it to cut out the brown scarecrow hat, the nose of an orange scarecrow and the print scarecrow's face. 3. Cut several sections of raffia about 12 cm long. Add sticky glue to the top of the paper bowl and add the raffia. It is necessary to keep the raffia for a minute or two to help keep it safe. You can also use yellow construction paper strips as an alternative to raffia. 4. Use a stapler to pin the brown scarecrow hat to the top of the sheet of paper. 5. Glue black button eyes onto the scarecrow craft. Then stick the scarecrow's nose and face on it. After our scarecrows, I figured out how to use candy corn on a nose if you wanted to add more 3D effects to your craft. Related: Beautiful Black Glue Fall Art Projects 6. Layer three yellow fabric paper squares together and crunch them together to make a yellow flower. Stick it on the scarecrow hat. 7. Finish the paper bowl scarecrow craft using the black maker to draw a mouth stitch on the scarecrow and add some markings to the scarecrow hat with the brown marker. The paper Scarecrow ship ready! Since this template contains several small or intricate pieces, younger children may need help in this step. Cutting Paper is also a great fine motor activity for kids. So if you want, you can print the scarecrow templates on construction paper, and then the kids will build a scarecrow after they cut the pieces out. Combine scarecrow puppets with glue, starting with the larger main pieces: head, hat, shirt, pants. Then add the scarecrow decorations to some characters! I also have several pieces of the printable scarecrow template so kids can decorate that fancy content. Some will want to go all, while others will keep it simple. The fun part of these preschool scarecrow printables is there is no right way to combine them. Cut the wooden stick template piece into one long and two short parts. You don't have to worry about being punctual. Put a little glue on the pieces of straw and fold the pieces of the hat, sleeves, trouser legs (or anywhere). Place the short stick piece under each arm and the length between the legs so that the scarecrow appears to hang from a wooden post. Use a black or brown marker to add the eyes, mouth, or other details you want. Mount a piece of card stock and display the festive autumn scarecrow craft. Perfect for your autumn activities!
